Map explanation:

We need the tiles around the discovered tiles to be able to be bought. When these tiles are bought they reveal (generate) that were not previously revealed (on the border of other discovered tiles). Every time a tile is revealed/generated, it has a chance of being part of a resource node which will then generate a group of other tiles in the node.

Discovered tile: A tile the player can see and build on.

Revealed tile: A tile the player can see but not build on. These are only on the borders of discovered tiles.

Tiles past revealed tiles are only generated and revealed after a revealed tile is discovered.
